

NCCS-30: Best PhD Thesis Award

1. There will be a Best PhD Thesis Award for doctoral dissertations in the field of Cryogenics or Applied Superconductivity.
2. There will be a separate Technical Presentation session for selected applicants under this category during NCCS-30.
3. Applicants must to submit a 5-page synopsis on their thesis work, summarizing their research, along with their thesis.
4. Applicants participating under this category will not be considered for the Best Presentation Award.

Eligibility Criteria

1. Any student/graduate who has been awarded the PhD degree in the field of Cryogenics or Applied Superconductivity after 1st December 2024.
2. The applicant must be a member of the Indian Cryogenic Council (ICC) at the time of application.

Documents Needed

1. A 5-page synopsis along with the list of publications on the thesis work.
2. Soft copies of the signed thesis and the PhD degree or a provisional certificate.
3. Recommendation letter from the Supervisor/Co-Supervisor.
4. All documents must be emailed to thesis@nccs30.org.in by 7th October, 2026.